CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

Don't Poison Baby.

FORTY YEARS AGO almost every mother thought her child must have paregoric or laudanum to make it sleep. These drugs will produce sleep, and a few drops too many will produce the sleep from which there is no waking. Many are the children who have been killed or whose health has been ruined for life by paregoric, laudanum and morphine, each of which is a narcotic product of opium. Druggists are prohibited from selling either of the narcotics named to children at all, or to anybody, without labeling them "poison." The definition of "narcotic" is: "A medicine which relieves pain and produces sleep, but which in poisonous doses produces stupor, coma, convulsions and death." The taste and smell of medicines containing opium are disguised, and sold under the names of "Drops," "Cordials," "Soothing Syrup," etc. You should not permit any medicine to be given to your children without you or your physician know of what it is composed. Castoria does not contain narcotics.

The signature of Dr. H. Fletcher guarantees genuine Castoria. Physicians Recommend Castoria.

"I have frequently prescribed Castoria for common ailments of children with good results." W. A. CRANDALL, M. D., Buffalo, N. Y.

"I find your Castoria is very beneficial in the treatment of children's ailments." F. DAVIS, M. D., Chicago, Ill.

"As the father of thirteen children I certainly know something about your great medicine and, aside from my own family experience, I have, in my years of practice, found Castoria a popular and efficient remedy in almost every home." WM. J. MCGRATH, M. D., Omaha, Neb.

"I object to what are called patent medicines, where maker alone knows what stuff is put in them, but I know the formula of your Castoria and advise its use in proper cases. I judge it to be a very useful, as well as harmless family medicine." N. B. GIER, M. D., Brooklyn, N. Y.

SALVATION ARMY IS STILL BUSY AS SANTA CLAUS

"It was the greatest Christmas success I have ever known," said Lieut. Col. Blanche B. Cox, of the Salvation Army, this morning. "The people of Honolulu have been most generous this year, and I feel that we have accomplished more work than ever before." Sparing no pains in the provision for the poor people of the city, those connected with the Salvation Army are of the opinion that the work which has been done this Christmas is far greater than that which has been done at any other Christmas in the history of the Army in the Islands.

At the Salvation Army headquarters on Nuuanu street, yesterday afternoon, two hundred and fifty people of the poorer class were given dinner, and last Saturday one hundred and seventy-five baskets, containing sufficient food for a meal for five people, were distributed to those who were mostly in need of them. For several days previous to Christmas, the workers of the Army had been making the rounds of the city, visiting the camps and tenements, and gathering data on all the needy families who were deemed worthy of help, and in this way the baskets found their way to the families who most needed them, and who would appreciate them.

The kiddies will be given the time of their lives this evening at seven o'clock, when a mammoth Christmas tree, loaded with presents will be held under the auspices of the Salvation Army. Already six hundred tickets have been distributed and every effort will be made to give the youngsters a good time. The tree has been set up on the stage, and Santa Claus will make his entrance through a chimney, and will distribute the gifts. The Hawaiian Band will be in attendance, and there will be several recitations by Miss MacDougal.

Colonel Cox expressed the desire this morning that the general public attend.

PICKLE MAN COMING.

Henry J. Heinz, the millionaire packer and originator of the "57 varieties," will arrive in Honolulu about March 7, and will remain in the islands for several weeks. The Heinz products are known the world over and the factories, which are located at Pittsburgh, are models of their kind. Mr. Heinz will take an active interest in Y. M. C. A. and other affairs during his stay here.

MAUI KAMA'AINA DIES SUDDENLY

[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence]

WAILUKU, Dec. 25.—James W. Fleming, aged seventy-eight years, died suddenly at his Makawao home Sunday morning. His death was a great shock to his whole family, who had planned a reunion and Christmas dinner at the homestead today. He was not considered seriously ill until Saturday afternoon when Dr. McConkey was called between three and four o'clock. The rheumatic pains in Mr. Fleming's left side and shoulder were then serious. At eight in the evening he was dead, the rheumatism having struck to the heart.

The ministers of the different churches heard early Sunday morning, and were able to give the news out to the congregations, so that a comparatively large number of people were present, although many more would have come had they received the news on the Lahaina side of Maui. The roads were in terrible condition and several parties who had started for the cemetery had to turn back, unable to reach Makawao.

Rev. A. Carle Bowditch read a short funeral service. Calla lilies, white daisies and roses were among the many flowers that were piled over the grave.

John Fleming of Honolulu was unable to be present, but the other members of the family hurried to the old home in Makawao as soon as the sad news reached them.

BLUE SKY SMILES

Berger, attracted large crowds, and gave a hint of what is coming on the last evening in the old year. The lights furnished by the Young building proved most beautiful.

Christmas Day itself was quiet. Only in the churches and at the scene of the now famous Malihini Christmas Tree was there any apparent activity. The services in church, mission and settlement were well attended, as is usual in Honolulu.

But Christmas spirit is not yet through with Honolulu for this year. The Salvation Army is planning its big Christmas Tree for poor children for tonight at 7 o'clock, and it is expected that several hundreds of the youngsters will be on hand to receive gifts. Six hundred tickets have been distributed by the army, which means that hundreds more will come. The band will play and Miss McDougal, the elocutionist, will give some of her recitations.

In army circles Santa was busy. At all of the posts the day set aside for him was observed in one way or another. At Schofield the Spanish War veterans gave a Christmas tree to the youngsters of the post.

Territory Remembers Its Wards.
Christmas by no means passed unobserved by the wards of the territory. Great loads of presents, of all sorts and descriptions were sent to the people of the Moikala settlement under the supervision of Superintendent Jack McVeigh, who also saw to it that the little boys and girls of the Kalihai and Kapiolani Homes had their Christmas trees and that the inmates of the Kalihai hospital were cheered by the distribution of substantial gifts.

In this he was ably assisted by Bishop Restarick, who in reality, acting for the host of generously inclined people of the city, was the Santa Claus of the three local institutions. So well did these two, co-operating heartily, give accounting of their stewardship, that no inmate of the homes or the hospital went unprovided for.

Under the big algaroba tree in the yard of the Kalihai hospital, from a long table piled high with mysterious packages of all sizes, the Bishop, Superintendent McVeigh and their aides distributed gifts to the men, women and children assembled there yesterday afternoon. The program was a simple one, easily and gladly performed, and though there were sprinkles of rain at frequent intervals the air was mild and the spirit of the occasion was in no way dampened. The distribution occupied more than two hours. In beginning, the Bishop spoke briefly to the parents, gathered in groups nearby, extending the usual holiday felicitations. At the close the patients in a body voiced their thanks, the male contingent giving three lusty cheers "for the Bishop." During the distribution the men's glee club played Hawaiian melodies.

Out in the Open.
Save for the fact that it was held in the open air, there was nothing to indicate this was different from any other Christmas celebration held in church or home. Contributions had been so generous there was little need to give cost of gifts any serious consideration, and the presents were the best Honolulu's stores could supply.

There were plenty of candies for the little folk, toys for the older children, dolls, baseball bats, balls, mitts, gloves and a mask for the young men; a guitar for one girl; an ukulele for another, and a half-dollar coin for each and every one, in addition to an individual package, the contents of which none but the donor and the recipient knows. There was a big music box, of the latest and best make, to set in some public place where all the patients may enjoy it, and a great number of good records. And Superintendent McVeigh announced that a moving picture show-house is to be installed there shortly, where films from the downtown exchange may be displayed nightly for the inmates' entertainment.

Threatened Tummy Aches.
No home celebration could have been happier on Christmas Eve than those which were held at the Boys' and Girls' home Tuesday night. Of course there were more little folk, but that just added to the merriment. There were many little babies, and they were all more or less frightened by real Santa Clauses, and all had to receive just so much fondling from nurse afterward before they would go to sleep, as a result. The trees were larger than any in the ordinary private home, and there were more candles, and greater loads of toys and candies. There were wagons and children's automobiles, and dolls, and the big boys received fearsome masks that they persisted in wearing and frightening the smaller youngsters half to death—it was a huge success.

And the Christmas dinners were so satisfactory that distended "opuses" were the common thing among the children—so much so that the nurses were threatened with further fatiguing work last night in administering treatment for "tummy-aches."

Boy Scouts at Tree.
One of the factors in the success of the Malihini Christmas tree, which was held yesterday, was the presence of a large number of the boy scouts from the different patrols throughout the city, under the command of their scoutmasters. As soon as the crowd began to arrive, the scouts were on hand, policing the grounds and preventing disturbances among the youngsters who thronged the grounds.

When those in charge of the giving out of the presents were ready to begin, the scouts were on the job and lined the children up and kept them moving until the last doll and toy had been disposed of, and the last sack of candy given away. Due largely to the efforts of the scouts, the affair went off without a hitch and the crowd of children was the most orderly ever seen at a public gathering in the city.

Xmas At Y. W. C. A.
Christmas was celebrated in the real, old fashioned way yesterday by the girls who live at the Young Women's Christian Association Homestead on King street. Early in the morning they came down stairs, and found that during the night someone had purloined their stockings and hung them up, and while they were wondering who it could have been, Santa Claus made his appearance, and filled the stockings full of presents. A jolly Christmas breakfast, the center of attraction was a big Christmas tree beautifully decorated and having many other presents hung on it. Mrs. McCully, who has charge of the Homestead, made a special effort to make the affair a real Christmas celebration, and each of the girls expressed herself as having had a jolly good time.

The educational classes at the Y. W. C. A. will be resumed on January seventh, and many new students have already been enrolled. The classes will meet at the usual time, and special arrangements will be made for those who are just entering in order that they may catch up in the different classes in a short time.

HEARINGS ON SUGAR TARIFF SCHEDULE

The Committee on Ways and Means of the House of Representatives have set January 15 as the day of hearing on the sugar schedule of the tariff. The Committee require as follows:

"Persons desiring to be heard should apply to the clerk of the Committee previous to the date set for hearing, to be assigned time on the program for that day. In making such application the following information should be given:

"Name, permanent address, temporary address in Washington, person, firm or corporation represented, paragraphs of the act concerning which testimony will be given; brief mention of attitude of revision of the tariff and the amount of the time desired. "In addition to this, the person intending to give testimony should forward in advance to the clerk a copy of his brief and of any documents he desires to file with the Committee."

SIMPLE MIXTURE HELPS HONOLULU PEOPLE

That simple remedies are best has again been proven. The Hollister Drug Co. reports that many Honolulu people are receiving QUICK benefit from simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler-Ka, the German appendicitis remedy. A SINGLE DOSE helps sour stomach, gas on the stomach and constipation INSTANTLY because this simple mixture antiseptizes the digestive organs and draws off the impurities.—advertisement.

CHARTER DRAFTING COMMITTEE.

There will be a meeting of the drafting committee for city charter revision at the governor's office at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Vice President Wilder of the general committee hopes there will be a full attendance.

The service rendered its patrons by the Honolulu Constructing and Draying Co., Robinson building, Queen street is the best.
